Veronica says

I'm excited to see where this is going, and for more Tizzie and Braga! It's not Rat Queens without Hannah, though, so I'm hoping she'll return to the page soon.

Haley says

First things first, I'm super bummed that Hannah isn't in this issue. She's my favorite... why wasn't she included in this issue? I'm a little confused about that. I gave volume three a chance even with the artist change, and while it was decent, I was kind of on the fence. But after this issue, I'm not so sure I want to continue with the series anymore. The art just kind of annoys me at this point and the writing hasn't been up to par either. The only question I have is this: is the writer writing based on the illustrations, or is the artist drawing based on the dialogue? Neither flowed smoothly in this issue and I'm highly disappointed. I think I might give the next issue a shot, but I'm a little weary. Bring back Hannah at least. I enjoyed the cliffhanger-- bitches be cray.

Mitticus says

[people are different and are doppelgangers it seems? and the rest of people are strangely good looking at the bar (hide spoiler)]

Mia says

I'm kinda sad that [just found out] the series had been put on hiatus, so if anyone knows where the web-comics will be published please let me know because I would love to continue reading.

Tiffany Fox says

3. They're back. They could have go anywhere in the world and they decided to come home. I'm a bit sad we didn't get to see the in between times with them on the ship. I feel as though we missed a lot of the story, but I'm glad to see them back at home and getting together with the old gang. Although it does seem that things aren't what they used to be.

2. Betty and strange happenings. Seems that the mushrooms are helping Betty see what's really going on. Dee's husband, Kiah, seems to being confronted by at least 2 individuals of the 4 person group standing outside. When Betty looks in that direction though you don't see the same individuals... instead you see what looks like the vampires from the movie Priest. Betty isn't the only one thinking things are different. Seems that the whole group is noticing it. Even Braga and Tizi mention that you barely even see any of the townsfolk.... which leads me to my number 1...

1. OMFG.....Orc Dave.... WHAT THE HELL IS Violet doing? I mean like I said in #2 it's probably because of those Priest vampire dudes... but please tell me it isn't so that she killed the real Orc Dave.....sniffles sniffles crawls into corner and beginnings to rock back and forth If I had to take a guess, which is what we will all have to do until the return of this series, is that Orc Dave's cough manhood wasn't what she had before and he was sooo different or he didn't have/do something that it tipped her off to the fact that this isn't Orc Dave.

This is a piss poor way to leave a series hanging. One on the beginning of an arc and two with that big of a cliffhanger..... OMG!!! Also, did the story telling just feel a bit off to you. I guess it was just because strange things are happening, they have been gone for a while and we don't know enough. I wish I could rate this higher, but to be fair I think the over all is a 4 but I just don't like how this seemed rushed and thrown together.

Kelsey says

Vox Machina!! That is all.

Melissa says

I miss the original ones, but I'm still sorry this is the last one. Hopefully the reboots will fill the void.

J says

This is the start of a story arc that got retconned by the soft reboot. It was still good, but I'm glad they restarted the series.

Zoe says

2 stars for the cliffhanger ending and unfinished story arc, an extra star for the cameo (the whole reason I bothered getting a hold of this leftover issue). Glad we will be getting more of the Queens though.

Marj says

I finally caught up and am so very frustrated that this is the end of the print run. It resolves nothing. Violet, Hannah, Dee and Betty all have very unresolved plot lines. I regret reading past #14. (Ok, I don't regret it, but this is a TERRIBLE place to stop!)

Allegedly the reason behind the hiatus/discontinuation/change to web comic is because Wiebe wants to bring back the original artist (who was removed from the series due to accusations of domestic abuse). I don't want to support someone who illustrates a comic book about bad ass women while treating us like garbage.

This was the first comic series that really felt like it was for me and I am deeply saddened that it's puttering out in such an ignoble fashion.

Kadie says

.....Loved seeing critical role

Jennifer Ranger says

This was another great installment of a great series. I can't wait to see the reboot in a couple of months. I'm hoping it's as good as the originals (and that it actually happens).

Devann says

It's so hard to rate this issue because 1. I hate rating individual issues of comics and 2. it's part one of a three part storyline that as far as I can tell never got finished and was retconned in the next official volume anyway. Honestly there's some funny moments but just for your own continuity sanity I would probably recommend skipping this one.

But I decided to do a short review anyway because there is still one important question that needs answering:

Is that Matt fucking Mercer?

Samantha says

Okay, this would have been a 3.5 or 4 star rating, but I have to give it a 5 star rating because of the Vox Machina/Critical Role cameos. Oh, and the cliffhanger ending certainly helps with the rating as well. What sucks though is that the comic went on hiatus after this issue, and the reboots that have been released lately start a whole new story line. We'll never find out the conclusion to the cliffhanger.

Shannon says

No Hannah this issue, but if it wasn't enough to make Vi angry all the time, now Dee is too.

Sigh ...

Cliffhanger ending so I'd suggest waiting until #17 is out to read this.

My guess is this is some sort of bizarro world Palisade based on the fact that Gary has friends.
