Loved this story as always!

Kerry says

A young adult book about rural Australia in the 1920s, a family living on Billabong Station in northern Victoria . In this one, the two main characters get married and go on a honeymoon around Australia (mostly around rural Victoria and NSW), and of course they have adventures. That's where it started to lose me. Trying to protect a 'Chinaman' (other more colorful terms which reflect the times, but very dated now, are also used) on the run from villains trying to take his jewels. It is totally as cheezy as it sounds. Kind of interesting but more of a piece of cultural history.
