Hollywood Headlines Mysteries Boxed Set Gemma Halliday

"Fans of Janet Evanovich will love this spin off of the High Heels Mysteries!"

- Jen. B, avid reader

Boxed set of three Hollywood Headlines Mysteries novels from New York Times, USA Today, and #1 Kindle Bestselling author Gemma Halliday, including:

HOLLYWOOD SCANDALS

Tina Bender is the gossip columnist at the infamous L.A. Informer tabloid. She knows everything about everyone who's anyone. And she's not afraid to print it. That is, until she receives a threatening note, promising, "If you don't stop writing about me, you're dead." Teaming with a built bodyguard, a bubbly blonde, and an alcoholic obituary writer, Tina sets out to uncover just which juicy piece of Hollywood gossip is worth killing over.

HOLLYWOOD SECRETS

Cameron Dakota is the L.A. Informer's staff photographer and paparazzi extraordinaire. Her latest subject is Trace Brody, top-shelf actor and half of America's favorite Hollywood couple. Trace is about to get married in a blow-out wedding, and Cams editor, Felix Dunn (from the High Heels Mysteries), has assigned her to get the first shots of the bride and groom. But when Cam takes pictures of what looks like Trace being threatened at gunpoint, she suddenly finds herself smack in the middle of a scandal more sensational than even she could invent. On the run, under fire, and in serious danger of falling in love with one leading man, Cam must get to the bottom of this story... before she becomes tomorrow's headline.

HOLLYWOOD CONFESSIONS

Allie Quick has high aspirations - much higher than reporting on the latest celebrity gossip for the L.A. Informer, Hollywood's most notorious tabloid. But if she's going to join the ranks of the real reporters, she's going to need a headline worthy story under her belt. Which is just what she gets when the producer of the trashiest reality shows on TV winds up murdered, and Allie convinces her editor, Felix Dunn, that this story has her name written all over it. Between an aging dance-off judge, a family with sextuplets and triplets, and the star of a little person dating show, Allie has no shortage of reality stars to question. But when she finds herself falling for her prime suspect, Allie's relationship with her editor is suddenly on the rocks, and her life is in danger. This is one deadline Allie can't afford to miss!

REVIEWS:

"Heading to the beach, pool or some other vacation destination? Grab a copy of (HOLLYWOOD SECRETS). The latest in the Hollywood Headlines series is 320 pages of pure fun. Halliday has created yet another laugh-out-loud whodunit. She breathes life into her mystery with a rich cast of vivid, pulp-fiction type characters and a heroine worth rooting for. 4 1/2 stars!"

- RT Book Reviews

"Gemma Halliday's witty, entertaining writing style shines through in her new book! I look forward to seeing lots more of Tina as this series continues. A fun read!"

I'd give Book 1: 4 stars, Book 2: 3 stars, and Book 3: 3 stars.

This series of books remind me of the Janet Evanovich Stephanie Plum series. It's got a similar writing style with similar characters and situations. The biggest difference is that the Stephanie Plum series feels much more polished. Also, the Stephanie Plum books actually make me laugh out loud. The High Heels series never made me do that although I did occasionally roll my eyes. ;-)

In the "High Heels" series, the author relies heavily on a formula and every book between 1 and 6 has exactly the same formula and just minor variations to the plot, etc. I think that reading all 6 books back-to-back really caused me to notice the formula and weaker characterizations. The author has phrases too that were highly predictable. You knew it was coming before it was said. That is fine for light, simple reads.

I don't know that I'll ready any more in this series. I may. I don't see me reading these books over and over again through the years like I do with Stephanie Plum.

Quick reads to take you away

Amber Batten says

I liked how the author kept the characters from the high heels series it was a nice spin off. These books are so easy to read and I was hooked from the first chapter!

Gemma Halliday has written a gem in the cozy mystery department, with this set.

These characters have been featured in her "High Heel Mystery" set, although they are not all based on one particular character. This threw me at first, since I really liked the first book in this set and characters written about, but it made sense too.

It says something when a writer has such a deep well in her other mystery series that she can draw within it to make these complete worlds of secondary characters. I almost felt like I step out of that world and entered this one and didn't even blink about it.

I liked that about this series. I got to learn more about these "background" characters and at the same time enjoyed more of Ms. Halliday's writing style.

Enjoyable reads; interesting plots. All centered in Hollywood...who could refuse that?

Four stars.

Stacey says

entertaining, but simple and predictable.

Mary Beth says

Cute and thrilling plots. Made me LOL, I especially liked the price for my kindle.

Angie O'Hanlon says

these are al light, fun reading

Cheryll Merritt says

Light, silly, chick-lit fast read.

Leah says

I like that these were about different main characters but all intersected. Overall they were fairly fun if a bit ridiculous. All three of the heroines had problems that bothered me a lot which made the books harder to read. But in the end they were worth a few hours.

Tammy says

These were almost as good as the High Heels Mysteries series. Great fun and easy reads.

Agnes says

LOL...nothing too serious just enough story line to keep me interested. I like how the author mixes romance and mystery with a little humor. Definitely a light read.

Deetz says

these are great for mindless reading. I read them on airplane trip, cross country. I just downloaded another one of her "boxed sets" to read on my next trip.

Lara says

These were a fun and light read. I actually liked them more than I thought I would.
