I can't sing enough praises for this first book in Gina's new series, Ice Cream Dreams. It's the perfect summer read for 2016!

It's a great story of a young girl, Sahara Smith, who is bound and determined to make something of herself. She gets a college education (or so she thinks), she strives for success at her current job and creates amazing ice cream flavors and pursues her dream job, to create ice cream flavors for Blue Ribbon Ice Cream Company.

It wasn't a easy road to get there, she leaves her mother behind and their relationship is strained to say the least, she embarks on this new journey and has to live with a family friend (or is she) and she falls in love with a boy that she truly thinks is too good to be true (why would he pick her anyway?).

With obstacle after obstacle in her way, Sahara is determined to show that she is somebody and that she can make her way in this world.

Grab a glass (or two) of wine and sit back and enjoy this sweet summer romance.

What to say about Gina's latest book? I absolutely loved it!!!

It is a sensational start to her new book series.

We are introduced to determined, serious Sahara as she embarks on a new adventure, doing what she adores; creating ice cream flavors. Along the way we meet a handful of colorful characters, including Brandon, a handsome charismatic man who seems to have eyes only for Sahara, much to her confusion.

As usual, Gina manages to put heart behind her story, making it a delightfully emotionally charged tale. She catches you off guard often, and throws in a twist (or two) for good measure. Her description of those delicious Ice cream flavors will have you rushing to the store to find them.

I cannot wait for the next book in this series!
