No one is spared from the heartache of war

As the Blitz destroys lives in Liverpool, three sisters are forced to make difficult choices to protect themselves and those they love.

When Nellie Callaghan marries her love in secret, it causes a rift in the family. But when the bombs drop on Liverpool grievances must be put aside as the people of the city are brought to despair. Nellie's mother is killed and her sister Lottie is injured, while her other sister Babs runs away to join the WLA. It falls to Nellie to care for the family.

Despite the suffering that the war brings, it is trouble on the homefront that leads to further hardship for each of the sisters. Before the war is over, each of the Callaghans will have faced heartbreak and sacrifice. But amongst the sadness they will find some joy, and never giving up hope for a brighter future.

Cindy Towns says

Touching and life like

This author has a way of making you feel like you know the people and can see the placesmakes them realand makes you feel what they feel

ANNAMARY PECK says

A little contrived

A good plot with interesting twists here and there. But towards the end all the loose ends got tied up a little too conveniently leading to a trite ending patricia w wiktorek says

It must have been difficult

For this family to find a silver lining during WW2. Though they were not in London, their mother and aunt are killed by bombs. The three sisters carried on, struggling with shortages, an over bearing father, and losing husbands and friends. A good tale showing us the mores and manners of the times with the horrors of this despicable war.

Sharon O'Connor says

Great read like all her book's

Great read enjoyed right until the end of the book like all her book's looking forward to reading more of them

Pat Langhelt says

A lovely story about sisters through the war twists and turns and a mystery not solved until the finish X
