From Reader Review Zondervan NASB Wide Margin Bible for online ebook

Tracey says

Seriously, the Bible is my favorite book. It's got a little of everything in it that I love (history, science, mystery, Mystery, love, romance, explosions and fire, wisdom, prophecy, darkness, poetry, unanswered questions, self-help, tragedy, beauty...)

I hate that the author is "Anonymous"; I call him God.

THIS particular Bible, I'm reviewing both the translation (NASB) and the publisher (Cambridge). I love the Old English of other translations (Douay Rheims, KJV, ESV), but the New American Standard is literal translation AND readable. It's my go-to translation.

If you read like I do, though, do yourself a favor, save yourself some money in the long run, and BUY A CAMBRIDGE. Seriously, yes, they're expensive. But my other NASBs have the pages falling out, so you lose your notes, then you have to figure out how to 'dispose' of it (if you're not trying to duck-tape it together).

HAND-SEWN is a must. NICE PAPER that takes ink is a MUST (though I use colored pencils mostly). MAPS and some kind of concordance are very nice. But don't get bogged down with a book so big you can't carry it with you and actually READ it; that's why this edition was so perfect for me: it's luggable! This edition just has it all; I've had it for years now and not one loose page or torn corner! If I lost it, I'd buy another just like it.

Yes, I know, I'm surely going to hell for giving the Bible only 4 stars. But some of it is really hard to get through.

And, this is the one I was presented with when I was confirmed Catholic.

Yes, I've actually read all three. And studied them through various theological courses.

It took me about a year but this was by far the best book I have read and will ever read it has every kind of story in it you could look for, true stories, figurative stories fantacies very very good. I recomend all to read at least LEAST once in there life time there is a reason it is called the best story ever told.

most literal and accurate. this is my bible of choice. stitched and genuine not bonded leather. i use it daily and it needs to be tough. ESV and NKJV are also very good. I read the King James in its original translation and it was not nearly as hard to read as most people protest from my view but i see no value over the NKJV as it is a lot more readable and just as accurate unless your dealing with the "king james only" club. whats the best bible to read? the one you actually will. if that's the NIV that's fine by me but just watch out for some of the paraphrases that twist the meaning in there attempt to be "thought for thought" instead of "word for word". if you can always read a literal translation like the NASB, NKJV, or the ESV. less room to get messed up by someone writing there ideas into the text. the common misconception that these translations have been translated from Greek to Latin and Latin to English and then had the English revised messing them up is completely invalid. all good translations go back to the original Greek and Hebrew and have been put under enormous scrutiny to be accurate. i have read the NIV and if you have to use a paraphrase for readability i think it is your best bet.

man does not live by bread alone but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God. don't be spiritually malnourished.

Larissa Fauber says

The Holy Bible is the love letter from God to us. He used several people to write the Bible in order to show His love for all His creation. And it is with honour that I finished reading this love letter for the third time and I would also like to encourage you to do the same.

"In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth"

This is Genesis 1:1.

God has started His creation. He created everything that your eyes can and cannot see. He also created the man and the woman, Adam and Eve. And He told them: "You are free to eat from any tree in the garden; but you must not eat from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, for when you eat from it you will certainly die."

However, that's exactly what happens one day. They ate it after being persuaded by the serpent. The consequences of sinning result in the broken relationship with God. For God is saint.

They are expelled from the Garden of Eve. From Adam and Even to us there is a separation, we are separated from God.

Yet, God so loves His creation that He promises to send the Messiah to restore this broken relationship with Him.

God has a lovely plan. God decided to send His only Son to the world, so that whoever believes in His Son may be saved and live forever. The Messiah is Jesus Christ, who came to this world, to live, die and ressurected after three days for me and for you.

The plan seems to be very simple but it involves faith. It involves believing that Jesus is the Son of God, that He is the Christ.

John 1:11,12 says: "(JESUS) came to that which was his own, but his own did not receive him. Yet to all who did receive him, to those who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God".

That's why we have Christmas, to celebrate the birth of Jesus, because without Him, we cannot find God, because Jesus said "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me." (John 14:6)

When we receive Jesus in our heart, we have a new life and when we die, we have ETERNAL life with God. God loves us passionately and He's anxious for a relationship with us. A relationship of guidance, protection, involved by His love.

Do not let sin be an obstacle for not being with God, but allow Jesus to be the bridge to reach God.

I usually say that we are on one side of the abysm and God is on the other. The abysm that separates us from God is a life without Jesus. When you believe in Jesus, the bridge is constructed and you walk safely to the other side, to have a life with God, in Christ.

And my one and only desire is to help you understand the love that God has for you, shown in His Son Jesus Christ.

And even if it is necessary for me to write more so that you can understand God's love, I will. Because deep inside you feel that you need God but sometimes you just don't know how to find Him. Let Jesus do it all for you ;)

And...Merry Christmas.

I love to read the bible. It's been six years since God got ahold of me, and I'm just finishing my sixth time through the bible. My hope is to read through it every year for the rest of my life.

NASB is my favorite translation because (1) it's the most literal, and I am an extremely literal person, (2) it's so poetic, especially through Psalms and Proverbs and the major prophets, (3) it's the easiest version to memorize.

If you aren't head over heels in love with the Lord, start reading your bible. Read it cover to cover, then read it again. The only way to fall in love with someone is to know them intimately, and the only way to love God intimately is to immerse yourself in His word. He pours out His heart in the Old Testament, and He pours out His life in the New Testament.

I learned about my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Also, the source of life, the result of the fall, the redemptive love of God, how to live, how to love, how to die, what happens afterward, and the sanctifying work of the Holy Spirit.

The Bible IS amazing. It is full of 'impossible' prophesies like the city of Tyre being destroyed and (if I remember correctly) it had recorded in it, information on the Assyrian Empire long before we even discovered ruins from Assyria.

I find the prophesy on Tyre the most fascinating one (Ezekiel 26:3-21) where it says: "...therefore this is what the Sovereign Lord says: I am against you, Tyre, and I will bring many nations against you, like the sea casting up its waves. They will

Jake Kern says

OK, I know it may seem trite to put the Bible in among the books I'm currently reading, but there have been some significant changes in my life that compelled me to add it. First I lost my dad on 9/4/09, and love, prayer, and the Bible are what held me together during that time. Also, as I've been talking with my therapist in the past couple months, I've had a tremendous breakthrough with my depression, anxiety, agoraphobia...you name it...and it's all because I've been speaking aloud and rebuking whatever it is that is attacking me with Scripture. Plus, how can you NOT love a Love Letter from God?

This is the only book I've read through cover to cover more than twice. It is the only book I read every day. There isn't enough room to tell what I've learned from it.

Here is a list of my favorites from The Bible:

Favorite Psalms - Psalms 32
Favorite Judge - Deborah
Favorite Proverb - Chapter 30
Favorite Pentateuch - Deuteronomy
Favorite Military Leader - Joshua Favorite Priest - Samuel
Favorite Major Prophet (in terms of documents written) - Daniel
Favorite Minor Prophet - Zechariah
Favorite King - Josiah
Favorite Disciple - Andrew
Favorite Apostle - Barnabas
Favorite Letter From Paul - Galatians
Favorite Letter From the Others - James, maybe 2nd Peter Favorite Gospel - John
Favorite Chapter - John 14
Favorite Verse - John 14:1
Favorite Person - Jesus

Holy Bible: The tale of two gods.

I have always been a fan of Old Testament god. He is the kind of fellow you can believe in. . . or else. Philistine's move into your neighborhood? Don't worry, the big guy has your back. He'll send his favorite son David to cut off two hundred of their foreskins and present them to the then king in exchange for stealing his wife. If that doesn't motivate you to convert to the bible's deity of choice, I don't know what will.

The methods of retribution are creative and unique. Killing cities with fire or the whole disobedient world with a flood lead the way in terms of headcount, but whether it is frogs, locusts, or drought, this dude makes his point: my side or else.

Then you get the new testament. Sure the same old contradictions are there. But this time, the story gets washed through the eyes of people whose grandfathers weren't even born during the events they are writing about. The worst part is that the modern interpretation of who the reader is told to emulate is absolutely offensive. The Jesus portrayed by the gospels is an awful model of how to live your life. He is a model of self-destruction. Why live out your life helping the poor and healing the sick or god forbid being a good example to people? Instead, a life of immolation as a model is chosen. Give until you are dead and don't pursue anything on your own. That is your standard. Live to that. Human's who want to live forever (sigh - when is man going to stop thinking they are anything but finite) are told to emulate a man who choose a path of self-destruction.

Overall this is an angry, confused book written by a bunch of savages who tried to make the world make sense, just like people have done since the beginning of time.

On a side note, for a good time, read Leviticus. Best book of the bible in a landslide. . . if it were a comedy. Taken seriously, it is a scary window into the mindset of the people who follow this tripe. Don't worry though, 99% of them will never read the bible and instead take other people's word on something that they claim is the most important thing in their lives.

About the binding & cover

The cover of this Compact Bible is made from Leathertex, an artificial leather which is soft to the touch. This Leathertex edition has a very nice smooth feel, which my husband really likes the feel of. Artificial leather should prove to be close in durability to bonded leather, although they haven't been on the market long enough to know for sure.

Trim Size: 4 1/16 x 6 3/16 x 3/4

What's inside?

This Bible is black letter edition. The text size is 6.8 type, which is good size for a compact Bible. 6.8 type is very readable when compared with other compact editions. The format of this edition is double-column, verse format, with subject headings. The paper is an off white color, and is non reflective which many people like in a compact Bible. The paper also has a semi-transparent quality. I do not recommend using highlighters in this Bible. If you would like to highlight passages I recommend Crayola color pencils they work best on thin paper. This edition includes a built in navy blue marker, which matches very well with the cover. The paper is edged with gold gild, which looks very nice with the navy blue cover.

In the Front

1. Table of contents
2. Books of the Bible in alphabetical order

In the Back

1. The parables of Jesus
2. The miracles of Jesus

About this Translation.

The New American Standard Bible (NASB) is a revision of the American Standard Version of 1901. The American Standard Version was a reversion of the King James Version. Many view the New American Standard Bible as one of the most literal translations of the 20th-century. Since its completion in 1971, the New American Standard Bible has been widely embraced by many as "the most literally accurate English translation" from the original languages

This compact Bible contains the updated New American Standard Bible.

In 1995, the Lockman Foundation reissued the NASB text as the NASB Updated Edition (or more often known, the Updated NASB or NASB95). Since then, it has become known simply as the "NASB" and has supplanted the 1971 text in most current printings (although the Thompson Chain Reference Bibles, the Open Bibles, and the Key Word Study Bibles still use the 1977 text for their NASB editions).

My Personal Opinion

I like the style of this cover, the design is simple yet elegant. I also like the rich navy blue color. Its always nice to see beautiful cover styles for Bibles. This edition comes in four other colors, and styles. The compact size & light weight of this Bible makes it a good choice for traveling. The New American Standard Bible Compact edition can make a very elegant gift for someone on the go

I must include in my reading list the most important Book of all!!! I have read through the Bible about 24 times, having read The Living Way version once, The New King James version once, and the NAS 22 times. As a Christian of 29 years, I'm accountable for about five years of laziness in not reading my Bible. However, this year will be my twenty-fifth reading. Please understand that I am not trying to add notches to my Bible-reading belt, nor am I a legalist who thinks reading yearly makes me better than others. Rather, reading the Word of God is crucial to my walk with God. Knowing His Word allows me to better know His wisdom and will. "Thy Word I have hid in my heart, that I might not sin against Thee." As it states in Hebrews 4:12, "For the word of God is living and active and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing as far as the division of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and able to judge the thoughts and intentions of the heart." One of my favorite Christian singers, Stephen Curtis Chapman, at the 2009 Dove Awards, discussing his life after his son accidentally ran over his daughter causing her death, summed it up quite eloquently, "Scripture hasn't just become more precious, but it's become the air that I breathe. There have been some mornings where I'm not sure if I'll be able to get out of bed, but now when I read the Bible, it's become my oxygen." I couldn't say it any better, Mr. Chapman.

I can really say that it's the only "must read" out there. If you don't have one, get one!

Bill Tillman says

I gave my life to Jesus in 1973, and started reading the KJV. After about a month I switched to the NASB version and its been my favorite ever since.
