Louise E. says

Good story.

Lori Henrich says

An unusual gift arrived at the theater in Branson where Grace Brennan and Michael Gold are performing. The music box contains a sinister note. She tries to brush it off as a simple prank, but when more odd gifts show up and the director of the show winds up dead, she begins to wonder if she is going a little crazy.

So many things are happening around Grace that she begins to doubt what God's plan is for her, where He wants her to be.

This was a great read. I like the way the mystery unfolds and the characters are developed. I believe this is part of a series, but not quite sure where it fits. If it is part of a series it works great as a stand alone story.

I think I am going to check out some of the other novels by this author.

Melanie says

A little boring. I liked the story, but the romance happened too quickly and I didn't really care for the characters. Overall, an okay read.

Prepare for a suspenseful story, that compels you to continue as long as possible to find out what is going to happen. You will meet some of the same people from the beginning of the series, plus additional characters that will dominate this story.

Nice to find a Christian based series, reflecting their struggles and growth.

A clean, stand alone, with an HEA.

Kee says

thrilling. a must read book!

Melissa says

LI Suspense--ok but choppy. Somewhat a Hideaway book but not as polished.

Short Review:

I enjoyed reading yet another Love Inspired Suspense book. This one is about two musicians, something I don't read enough of! I loved reading their story, and recommend this to all LIS fans. The plot was interesting, and there were a few twists that caught me off guard! (Something most mysteries fail to do!)
