The Drake House Kelly Moran

In her dreams, a ghost demands to be heard...

Trisha Eaton has been plagued by mysterious nightmares ever since her parents adopted her as a young girl. She chalked them up to childish nuisances until they return-- with a vengeance. Something about the Drake house next door to her family's apple orchard haunts her. Now, her night terrors and sleepwalking seem to be luring her to something dark. When a series of strange events crops up, Trisha turns to Nick Mackey. As the new deputy in town, Nick just wants to put his traumatic past behind him. An undeniable attraction for Trisha has piqued interest and has him wondering if a shot at a normal life was possible. But Trisha has somehow struck a nerve, and a long-buried secret. A secret that someone they know will kill to keep veiled. Uncovered answers only seem to lead to more questions in a case where nothing makes sense.

One chilling fact remains... some nightmares are all too real.

"Lovely prose, compelling characters, and unexpected plot twists make this a genre-bending winner!"

A wonderful story with a perfect blend of suspense, ghost, and romance. First Moran's novel I've ever read, didn't know what to expect... then found myself couldn't put it down. Very intriguing!

I loved this book!! Intriguing, suspenseful action with the paranormal thrown in!!!! A love story between two people destined to be together. Bravo Kelly!!

Mary Roya says

I thoroughly enjoy this story of 'The Drake House'. The author created a dark and spooky story that kept the mystery of the Drake House until the end. The characters interaction strong. The tension between the hero (Nick) and the heroine (Trish) was strange. But I liked it. The Nick is a man of few words. Which made Trish crazy as it would me too.

Nick is the new deputy in a small town, he comes there to escape the big city. Nick, can't see in color, he can't feel and he can't taste that is until he mets Trish.

Secrets! A small town full of them as their citizens. Trish has nightmares and walks in her sleep. Is she crazy, haunted or is it a memory.

I highly recommend this book. The author kept me guessing. I loved the twist at the end, which I can't tell you. You have to read the book.

Small Rapids, Wisconsin is a quiet little town, but even quiet towns have their secrets.

"THANK YOU FOR COMING"

Those are the words Trisha Eaton hears every time she sleepwalks through her apple orchard and ends up near the spooky Drake House.

Trisha has only recently been experiencing the recurrence of her childhood nightmares and is quite frightened. She doesn't remember much of what caused them to begin except being found in a well on the neighboring property of Alexandra Drake.

Alexandra Drake was a recluse, who was named "the town witch" and feared by adults and children alike. Nobody dares go near her abandoned home.

When Trisha's night terrors begin to excel and a series of awful events start happening, it's new deputy Nick Mackey that comes to Trisha's aid.

Nick has a troubled past of his own and has come to Small Rapids to escape it and start fresh. What he didn't plan on is falling for Trish. A romance was the last thing Nick was looking for, but his feelings cannot be denied. Trisha is falling hard as well, but tries to fight it.

Together Trisha and Nick, along with Trisha's best friend, Brad, start to dig into the questions that keep coming up, but someone wants them to stop asking. Someone who has threatened to harm Trisha. Who (or what) is responsible for these events and what does it all have to do with Trisha. Why is she mysteriously drawn to the Drake House? Who is calling to her? Is it the ghost of Alexandra Drake and if so, why?

Kelly Moran has written a paranormal romance filled with suspense. The Drake House is a page turner that had me guessing til the very end.

A creepy house, a sleepwalking heroine and a hero who's out to solve her mystery. This book kept me guessing right to the end. I loved it. Trish's unknown history comes back to haunt her when the new Deputy, big city cop Nick arrives in town to escape his own nightmares. Nick is determined to solve the mystery of Trish's nightmares and in his attempts sets in motion a whole series of spooky events. The romance between them is carefully twined around the mysterious happenings in a way that made me desperate to find out what was going on, but kept me guessing with the twists and turns of the plot. A great read!

Donna says

Nick Mackey is the new cop in town. He has moved to Small Rapids to start over. He wants the peace and quiet of a small town. What he gets instead is a mystery wrapped up in Trisha Eaton. Trisha owns an apple orchard just outside town and someone is threatening her about events from the past.

I was sucked in from the get go. Two damaged souls finding and loving each other. I'm not much for ghost stories but the mystery had me on the edge of my seat and turning page after page trying to figure out who did it. A definite re-read.

Lillie says

A spooky house, an enigmatic hero, and a terrorized heroine—one of my favorite kinds of books. I prefer that the lead couple don't hop into bed at the first opportunity. I like to see the characters develop an emotional relationship before a sexual one. The mystery was convoluted and challenging, and I didn't figure out who-dun-it.

Joy Whiteside says

This was a great read that I finished in a few hours. I could not put it down.

This book moved along at a great pace, has awesome characters and an entertaining story that kept me interested throughout.

Kelly Moran is a great author whose books takes you away from your every day reality.

Sandra Dailey says

This is truly one of the best paranormal/romance/mysteries I've ever read.

What makes Trisha sleepwalk? What causes the terrifying nightmares? What can the new deputy Nick do to help her? And the bigger question, who is killing people close to her?

Kelly Moran has put together a seamless plot and used her secondary characters to move the story along at a fast pace. There wasn't a page in this book that didn't capture me. It's one of the few I know I'll read again.

Hollie says

A really really good spooky romance! I loved the Nick and how attracted he was to Trisha. Even though he was dealing with his own guilt, his desire to watch out Trisha was great!

I loved every hair raising minute of this story!

Sarah Butland says

A racy tale of compelling characters with backgrounds that will make you shiver. Not everything is quiet and content in the small town Small Rapids, Wisconsin where Nick runs to in order to escape a trouble past and guilty conscious.

After a deadly shooting harming more than Nick's victim, he only sees black and white, smells nothing and his taste buds seem to no longer exist. Not wanting to face the reasons why he takes on a job as a cop in this small town with small town crimes. And then he met Trisha and started seeing that his escape plan wasn't what he thought it would be.

The Drake House caught my attention from the very first page capturing a short scene that would make a lot more sense in the coming pages. Kelly Moran created these characters who existed in my life for a few weeks and I still wonder about now. I hope she'll continue their story to let her fans know how they made out with the decisions they made.

A haunted bed and breakfast, one less sleep walker, a miracle birth and a promise of success, The Drake House comes complete with suspense, romance, loved characters and two recipes for the best apple pie in the world! Make them both and you decide then come back and tell me why.

This tale makes me dream of living on an apple orchard too. A must read for anyone who loves suspense and romance!

Kathryn Knight says

The Drake House is my favorite combination of genres - romantic suspense mixed with a spooky paranormal element. Amidst haunting clues and terrifying memories, secrets of the past are slowly revealed, building to a suspenseful ending. The time frame of the book is almost a year, which allowed the characters to really develop, individually and together. The conflict was believable and the pacing tight. I looked forward to reading this novel each night!
