The Adventures of Barry Ween, Boy Genius 3 Judd Winick

In this third hilarious trade paperback Barry Ween's bringing monkeys! He is the world's smartest human being; his "big brain," has a limitless capacity for knowledge, and Barry has no problem putting that knowledge to use. That's pretty cool when you consider the fact that he's only 10 years old. Unfortunately, when you have that kind of smarts, trouble is nearly a foregone conclusion! Giant, talking gorillas from other dimensions; drunken, smelly clans of Bigfeet; and a germ-filled monkey looking to cause the next outbreak - these are things that Barry has come to accept as normal. Compared to such frightening childhood rites of passage as girls and the first school dance, Barry would take all three scenarios without blinking. This trade paperback collects the first three issues of Eisner-nominated creator Judd Winick's mini-series and features the debut of Bezeruul, the giant talking ape!

Jdetrick says

For the first time we see a bit of continuity in the strip, but it's still a blast.

Patrick says

Aaaand this one made me cry.

This series is just as good as I remember it. In fact, it's even better in some ways, because now I know how hard it is to write a comic that fits in this much action, dialogue, and good character development.

Tippy Jackson says

Part 1: Field trip to the zoo. Barry meets Bezeruul, is set up and has to rescue him and get him home. "-How'd you know I was here?" "-You're as stealthy as a fat lady with T.B."

Part 2: A bigfoot kidnaps Barry's parents when they go camping. They meet Roxie and Barry brings her to civilization. "-Oh,yeah. And I'm not using toilet paper neither... Leaves, Fucker. Shrubs. I'm cleaning the back yard like the cavemen did." "-You're going to force someone smaller and more passive to do it to claim your alpha-male status?" "-Nah, Bitch. I said leaves and shit."

Part 3: School Dance. Outbreak monkey escapes and makes it to the school. "I don't care if J. Edgar Hoover wearing a Chenille gown and blowing a row of chorus boys is blocking the road--You mow his dead, closeted, gay ass over!! Where you drunk?! Jerking your Jimmy?! Listening to the radio and ensnared by the scorching rhythms of a homosexual boy band?!!"

I NEED MORE BARRY WEEN!! There isn't enough. Too awesome.

Korynn says

Foul mouthed young genius Barry Ween is living his life under the radar like Clark Kent, except that instead of Jimmy Olsen for a sidekick he has his sex-obsessed best friend Jeremy Ramirez. In the end these stories are hilarious and have heart. The ultimately best story in this volume is the one about Barry meeting Bigfoot. Gotta love Jeremy and Barry.

Nancy says

The stories are a bit more serial now as Barry's relationship with Sara grows and gets more complicated, but the mad science adventures are just as hilarious and wacky. Roxie is a fantastic addition to the cast. I love her!

Mel says

Book Three wasn't as funny as the first two books - it seemed a bit too frenzied.

Kim Reads says

Well Shit. The last scene with Barry in the kitchen was rough
