For months, werewolf Rock Kiard turned away from rights to mate, blaming his lack of interest on everything but the truth. He had fallen in love with a longtime friend who belonged to another. When he returns to her home to deliver alarming news, he is pulled into her forbidden dream where the impossible becomes possible. That is, if Rock's new found female can accept three powerful males claiming her. Shattering events have transformed Florida into an immortal war zone, forcing the vampire warriors to work alongside the werewolf pack to fight an unnatural enemy hell bent on invading their turf and breeding their rare females inside horrific labs. One male holds the key that will change everything, but will he figure it out before it's too late

From Reader Review Captiva Capitulation for online ebook

BJ says

The H is amazingly accepting in this episode, when he mates h, another feels the call of his mate and it is Blythe. The H is hunting down the mystery of the aliens, and how they found earth. He works out that they are affected by iron, and it sends them mad. The vamp that has protected h, confesses that he is in love with her. So they work together to get the triad mating working, and she is pregnant with alien's baby. Great.

Werewolves, Vampires, Alien - Rock, Kash, Sixten - what more would Blythe need or want? This series has captured me from the first through this the 3rd in series. Talyn Scott knows how to write paranormal and loving full relationships as well as turmoil between characters and species and as always humor with great banter - WOW - WOW - WOW. This series and Sanibel series are must reads.

I love Sixten

The is book had a lot of information about the creatures that will, I'm assuming will be introduce in future books, that kinda made the book confusing. I'm going to keep reading because I love it when a man really loves his woman! I have had some great fantasy's about these guys!
