[Siren Menage Everlasting: Menage a Trois Romantic Suspense Western Romance: M/F/M, HEA] Wesson and Cole are attracted to Jessie. Can they convince her to give two men a try? Will she risk losing her job for them? With someone shooting darts at the cattle, the men's attentions are divided between dating her and protecting their ranch. Neither man wants Jessie hurt, so when she is hit by a tranquilizer dart they feel responsible and panic. Jessie has fallen for the two men and despite threats to her job teaching children, she continues to see them. They aren't taking any chances with her safety but never think that the threat could be closer to her than to them. Finding out that the attacker is someone Jessie sees most every day only reinforces the need to protect their woman. Wesson and Cole close ranks around her. Jessie loves that they are so protective of her. Once the threat is eliminated, she agrees to be their wife.
