The Wall in Jerusalem: A Jewish Call to Christians to Follow Jesus in Bringing Peace to Israel and Palestine Mark Braverman

The conflict between Israel and Palestine is at the center of a firestorm of political controversy, religious zeal, and bloodshed in the Middle East. Many American Christians feel that they have a biblical obligation to "stand with Israel"--but do we really understand the conflict? And is Zionism really the path to peace?

An American Jew, Mark Braverman was transformed by witnessing firsthand the occupation of Palestine and the devastating consequences of the struggle of Israelis and Palestinians to bring justice to their land. In THE WALL IN JERUSALEM, Braverman:

Clearly outlines the origins and major tenets of the conflict and of Zionism

Demonstrates how Christian Zionism conflicts with Christian values of justice and compassion

Gives Christians biblical and historical basis for supporting both the state of Israel and Palestine

Offers a clear course of action both at home and abroad to bring peace

Illuminating and provocative, this book will challenge what Christians think they know about Israel and Palestine, and inspire them to help bring God's peace to the Holy Land.

Published only last year, this book compassionately and clearly tells the story of Palestine from the perspective of a Jewish activist who finds himself being truest to his Jewish identity as he strives to work toward an end to the apartheid inflicted by the state of Israel, whose conquest strips Palestinians of their dignity and rights while keeping Israelis from finding healing and meaning through empathy and connection.

Tony Parsons says

A historical trek through the past bloody religious wars, South African apartheid & the persecution of the Jews by other governmental ethnic groups & of course Adolph Hitler & co.

Violence in Israel & Palestine has become quite the norm. Can Jews & Palestinians ever find a way to coexist (Holy Land)? 100's of religions around the globe. Now Jerusalem has Zionism, not exactly in line with most Christian values.

I'm at awe over this book. Not bringing the race card into focus, but world news & history is my forte. It's amazing just this week everyone in the sports world is gripping about a pro Basketball owners racial remarks. Goodness my biological dad was in WWII Germany he was in a Army unit that took care of the concentration camps. It messed him up for the rest of his life (PTSD).

My point is why is it; African Americans make more fuss than the Jewish race? They have endured racial conflict since Jesus time. & to this very day both race/culture still do.

Awesome book cover, great font & writing style. A very well written historical fact found religious book. It was very easy to read/follow from start/finish & never a dull moment. No grammar errors, repetitive or out of line sequence sentences. Lots of exciting scenarios, with several twists/turns & a great set of unique characters to keep track of. A book you won't want to put down. This could make also make a great Gaza strip religious movie, or mini TV series (A & E; History channel). There is no doubt in my mind this is a very easy rating of 5 stars.

Thank you for the free book.

I received a copy of this book from a Goodread Giveaway Contest.

I found the book interesting. It presented the view of Isreal from a Jew's point of view. Hes is not happy with the direction of Isreal. He is not happy with the wall that is separting the Jews and Palestines. He makes comparisons between what is happening in the Middle East and what had happened in South Africa and the segregation in the American South. He examines the role religion has played in causing and solving the problems.

The opening chapters were a little confusing as the the author was giving his observations. I was not sure where he was going until we got into the latter chapters.

I would recommend the book. The problem in the Middle East is a complicated one. It is good to facts from all sides.

A brilliant book written by an American Jew who recognises that the form of apartheid being perpetrated via the wall and other means in Israel is not only oppressing the people of Palestine but also preventing the Israelis from attaining their own healing and meaning and identity.
